

GO GREEN FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

This green ribbon is tied in honor of those lost in the Texas Hill Country floods, including the young lives at Camp Mystic, and in remembrance of all those affected by recent flash flood disasters across our country, including New Mexico.

Green was Camp Mystic's color, and it has become a symbol of love, remembrance, and community support. As this movement grows, it carries a message of unity, hope, and compassion.

This ribbon is 3 feet long. It's enough to wrap around most trees or porch posts. For larger trees, a longer length may be needed to tie a full bow.

Join us in going green for flood victims. Let your ribbon speak for kindness, courage, and the power of standing together.
